

Rift Valley Technical Training Institute

Author Guidelines

Contributions must be original or reviewed articles but not previously submitted elsewhere for publication. Contributions should add to knowledge and understanding the guided thematic areas of the international conferences from which papers presented are published in the journals. All papers are expected to be analytical, with reports of studies interpreted both in terms of the theoretical literature and in terms of contemporary issues as addressed by the relevant RVTTI Annual International Conferences themes and by Africa Journal of Technical and Vocational Education and Training (AfriTVET) ISSN 2518-2722 (online) and ISSN 2413-984X (Print). Articles are submitted to the AfriTVET hosted in www.afritvetjournal.org or www.afritvet.org or RVTTI website.

Refereeing

All articles submitted to the secretariat of the journals are subject to the conventional double-blind refereeing system.

Initial submission

To ensure prompt review of your paper, please observe the instructions on-screen and take note that:

1. Manuscripts should be saved as a Microsoft Word. These should contain: title of the manuscript, abstract, key words (at least 5 words), article text with figures and tables, references, in that order, as one document.
2. A 250-350-word abstract in one continuous paragraph is required for the papers to be published.
3. The abstracts and full papers should contain: Title of the paper; Name(s) of author; Email and Cell Phone Number.
4. Abstracts should have words between 250 and 300, be in block format; Times New Roman 12; Single spacing; At most 5 key words.
5. Full papers should have words between 3000 and 3500. Times New Roman 12; Single line spacing.
6. All correspondence will be sent to the first listed author.
7. Please list all authors in the order they are to appear on the title page.

Style Guide

The Journal uses the APA (American Psychological Association) Formatting and Style Guide 6th edition for the formatting of submissions. For more information, visit our website www.afritvetjournal.org or www.afritvet.org or www.rvti.ac.ke/publications or please consult the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th edition, second printing. The official spelling is UK, but American spellings are also acceptable provided that they are used consistently. Translation of articles from other languages into English is encouraged and should be provided by professional translators. The Editors reserve the right to make editorial and literary corrections.

Tabular and statistical materials, graphs, figures and charts should be kept to a minimum and be formatted in APA style - 6th Edition.

Body of manuscript should be one document file commencing with the manuscript title; an Abstract of about 250-300 words; at most 5 Key words.

Citations and References should be accurate, current and consistent throughout. The journals use APA Style. Please ensure that in-text citations appear in References, and vice-versa as appropriate. The accuracy and format of reference citations is the authors' responsibility

Photographs: Are not encouraged because of the difficulty in printing quality and must be restricted to only one. Electronic black and white (grayscale) TIFFs of high resolution (300 dpi minimum) are preferred, around 300 KB in size. Low resolution (i.e. under 150 dpi) JPEGs or GIFs are NOT suitable for printing.

Headings and Sections: The use of sub-headings is recommended, but such sub-headings should not be numbered. The first level of sub-heading should be bold capitals; the second, bold lower case, sentence case; and the third, italicized, sentence case

Main Headings

Are first and should be used to identify the (normal) three or four major sections of the manuscript.

Second-level headings (title-style; flush left; nothing else on the line) are next.

Third-level headings (first letter of first word capitalized; indented and italicized) are next.

References: References in the text should give the author's name and year of publication (with page number if necessary) according to the APA with minimal capitalization. References should be formatted as per examples in our websites www.afritvetjournal.org or www.afritvet.org or www.rvti.ac.ke.

Submission Preparation Checklist

As part of the submission process, authors are required to check off their submission's compliance with all of the following items, and submissions may be returned to authors that do not adhere to these guidelines.

Author Warranties: by submission of material to the RVTTI International Conferences and AfriTVET all authors warrant that the material is their own, original material or that

1. Copyright clearance has been acquired to reproduce other material from employers, third parties or attributed to third parties, and that the material has not been previously published and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere.
2. By submitting material to RVTTI International Conferences and AfriTVET, all authors of the material agree to indemnify AfriTVET, and its heirs and assigns in business, against any litigation or claims that may arise from the content of or opinions in the material provided. Submission of material to RVTTI International Conferences and AfriTVET also imply all authors' consent to assignment of the material's copyright to AfriTVET when that material is accepted for publication in the journal, for the full legal term of copyright and any renewals thereof throughout the world in all formats and in any medium of communication.

If the corresponding author is no longer active, any of the other authors may become the corresponding author and they will accordingly be bound by these terms and conditions.

(Note: On acceptance for publication, an agreement specifying the terms noted here and above will be sent to the corresponding author for signature by the corresponding author who is duly authorized to sign this agreement on behalf of all authors and contributors. No printers proof will be sent to the author. The copy provided by the author on acceptance is the version used for typesetting. The publisher reserves the right to make editing corrections).

3. The text adheres to the stylistic and bibliographic requirements outlined in the Author Guidelines, which is found in the guidelines above.
4. A citation should refer to a publication listed in the References section of the manuscript and all references should have been cited in the text.
5. Tables and figures - Note that tables have no vertical lines within or outside the text. i.e use only limited and necessary horizontal lines and no vertical lines
